I was born in Windburg, in the Freestate. (Um) the earliest of my days I can recall is that we moved to Bloemfontien, and that's where I started my school career. (Um) subsequently to that we moved to Springs and I completed the whole of my primary and secondary schools (Um) in Springs, in the eastern part of Johannesburg. (Um) it was exciting (Um) a (Um) very pleasant experience. We stayed in Selection Park. The primary school was in Daggafontien (Um) so I had quite a way to go to get to the school. (Um) Subsequent to that they built a primary school in Selection Park (Um) which my sister had the pleasure of going to. I didn't, but it was very pleasant. We lived in Natal in Richardsbay area for a while (Um) two years to be exact. (Um) and then while, then, while I worked for the SABC on erecting these FM towers, we lived in a caravan in different parts of South Africa. (Um) it was the beginning of the erection of the FM masts, prior to that, in sixty-four, we only had the AM (Um) stations to listen to, which were (Um) accomplished a lot of noise. Especially in bad weather, the FM made complete difference to it, it was noise-free, and off course also the (Um) the voice channel for TV. On the FM masts, the top sections were specifically designed to take the TV, so I was in the SABC when they started the FM and TV in South Africa.
