

ALABAMA 11 TRANSCRIPTION

Um, was born in Montgomery, Alabama. Raised in the suburbs of Montgomery County about 25 minutes from the city limits.

Um, one thing I can recall from my childhood was...went to visit my friend. It was probably 2 days after New Year's and I was probably around ten years old and we were playing with fireworks...Well some kind of way I lit my firework and it landed in the field across the road, which started this massive fire because the field was so dry. And I just stood there in shock while everyone was running around me with buckets of water trying to put the fire out. And it was one of those pivotal moments in my childhood that, at the time, didn't seem funny at all but now people joke about it all the time. But, yeah, it's definitely, definitely one of those things from your childhood that you will never forget.

Transcribed by Mitchell Kelly, January 15, 2008