

Subject is a Caucasian female, 18-years-old, who was born and raised in various locals through Florida—mainly in the Tampa area. She is a beginning theatre student who has not worked on changing her voice or speech. Her mother is also from Florida, but her father is from New York.

Notice the usage of the consonant /ɹ/ (hard velar-placed R sound)—even to the point that it is used for R-colored vowels, the /ɹ/ sound, and usage of the /ɑ/ sound generally for the low back vowels. There is slight nasal quality to vowels (especially around nasal consonants). There is a downward inflection pattern ending sentences with some drop off in vocal energy.
